SUBJECT: BURGLARY OF FBI RESIDENT AGENCY, MEDIA, PA.
3-8-71
MEDBURG

This is to briefly summarize the conference which I had today with representatives of various Divisions on the investigative side of the Bureau, in addition to Mr. Bishop's office. Mr. Dalbey was present as well as SAC Roy K. Moore. Our preliminary conference was held in my office, at which time we went over the presentation to be made to the Internal Security Division of the Department. Subsequently, we did present the facts to the Internal Security Division.

Messrs. Dalbey, Gale, Brennan, Rosen, SAC Moore, and I met with Mr. Mardian of the Internal Security Division, as well as [redacted] of his staff.

To summarize briefly the discussion, the following facts are set forth:

I advised the conference we had a hypothetical matter which we wanted to discuss with the Department and that I would ask SAC Moore, who is most familiar with the facts, to present for discussion the information available at this time.

SAC Moore hypothetically synopsized the case, pointing out that a break-in of a Federal building would take place, probably within the next two weeks. Extensive plans had been drawn up, surveillances conducted, and notes, charts, and photographs made by those participating. Three points were to be discussed: (1) Could we arrest participants without warrants; (2) Could we take into custody the automobiles in which they were riding or had parked in proximity to the break-in and later search with or without warrants; and (3) Whether we should have a night-time search warrant for [redacted] home, where all the planning has taken place and the records are now stored.

Mr. Mardian stated we could: (1) Arrest without warrants; (2) That we could search the cars in which anyone was arrested; (3) He preferred we get search warrants for the cars not occupied after having removed them to a place of safety; and (4) That he preferred we get a search warrant for [redacted] home inasmuch as this would occur at night. There was no question as to the legality based upon probable cause for such a search warrant, but a question was raised as to whether the Federal Judge or a Magistrate would have to sign such a search warrant. It was the consensus of the Department that it would be preferable to have a Federal Judge sign such a search warrant so there could be no question raised at a later time about the sufficiency of it. This Judge preferably would be one appointed by this Administration so that he would be personally known to the Deputy Attorney General. (It is noted Federal U. S. District Judge John J. Kitchen, Camden, New Jersey, was appointed October 16, 1970, former Special Agent - 1942 - 1946).

Mr. Mardian indicated he recognized the necessity for the utmost secrecy in this case.

A separate memorandum is being prepared by the Crime Records Division with reference to the manner in which contemplated press coverage is to be handled.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson
Re: Burglary of FBI Resident Agency
Media, Pennsylvania, 3/8/71

ADDENDUM (WCS:csh), 7/22/71:

It is evident that this is an extremely important case for the Bureau. If successful, it will do an enormous amount toward offsetting some of the difficulties we have had in the past. It could have national impact.

It will be a very complex, sensitive operation, involving over fifty of our agents and some 15 to 25 subjects to be arrested. We cannot be too careful or take too many precautions, or plan too thoroughly in order to make this successful.

In view of this, if the Bureau has no objection, I would like to go up to Philadelphia on Sunday afternoon, 7/25/71, and review carefully all the plans made, discuss their implementation directly with those involved, and be on the spot to assist in carrying out this operation in the early hours of Monday morning, 7/26/71.

If there is no objection to this, I will so proceed, returning by noontime on Monday, 7/26.

W. C. SULLIVAN

7/22/71 ADDENDUM BY W. MARK FELT:

I do not agree. SAC Moore is eminently qualified to handle on the scene supervision and Sullivan should be here to coordinate at Seat of Government and handle with Dalbey necessary contacts with the Department.

I concur.

SUBJECT: BURGLARY OF FBI RESIDENT AGENCY, MEDIA, PENNSYLVANIA MARCH 8, 1971

Attached memorandum of July 22, 1971, from Mr. Rosen to Mr. Sullivan, same caption, sets forth a brief summary of salient facts at this time relative to this matter. In view of the importance of this case, I believe SAC Moore should be instructed concerning the manner in which the subjects should be handled subsequent to arrest.

All subjects should first be subjected to the booking process - search of the person, fingerprinting, photographing, and the taking of a complete personal description. The arresting officers have a right to perform this booking process before doing anything else. On completion of the booking, each subject should be allowed the opportunity of making a telephone call. The right to make a telephone call is closely linked to the constitutional right to counsel and should in each case precede interrogation for evidence of guilt.

The second step to be taken upon completion of the booking process is calling the U. S. Magistrate. The purpose here is to avoid a violation of Rule 5(a), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure (the so-called Mallory Rule) by unnecessarily delaying the appearance of the arrested person before the Magistrate. The Magistrate in this case or in any other matter may refuse to see the prisoners until his regular office hours. This does not matter. The point of the notification to him is that if he then refuses to come down to the office for preliminary hearings, the delay between the time of the call and the regular opening of the office is a delay not attributable to the FBI. An unnecessary delay attributable to the FBI might result in exclusion from evidence of any confession, admission, and/or other evidence obtained during the unnecessary delay.

Once the suspect has been extended the facility of a telephone call, so he might arrange counsel, and the Magistrate has been notified, the interview may proceed. The interview may proceed for a short time even after the Magistrate has arrived, which is to say that it is not necessary to immediately terminate a reasonably short interview simply because the Magistrate is now present. In no case, however, should an interview be long and drawn out; it would violate the Miranda rule and might be held to violate Rule 5(a) even though the Magistrate has been promptly notified as stated above. The original interview should be as short and concise as reasonably possible, limited to getting a readily available confession or admission to basic charges and facts.

No questions concerning guilt should be asked of any suspect before he is given full warning of his Miranda rights. This warning can be delayed until immediately prior to the interview for purposes of establishing guilt, but we are on somewhat safer grounds if it is given, at least orally, promptly upon arrest.

RECOMMENDATION:

That these instructions be given by the General Investigative Division to SAC Moore immediately.

ADDENDUM: AR:jyl

I agree with Mr. Dalbey's observations, and SAC Moore is being advised immediately of the detailed procedure set forth herein.

SUBJECT: BURGLARY OF FBI RESIDENT AGENCY, MEDIA, PENNSYLVANIA, MARCH 8, 1971

Attached is a brief summary of the salient facts available at this time relative to the proposed break-in of the Federal Building at Camden, New Jersey, which remains tentatively scheduled for the early morning hours of July 26, 1971.

This is being submitted for the Director's ready reference and outlines the intended plans of the "Grady Action Group" as well as the plans of Bureau personnel under the direction of SAC Roy K. Moore at the scene in coping with this situation. As of this time, Philadelphia reports 23 individuals under Grady's direction will participate in various phases of the break-in while 71 to 80 Agent personnel will be utilized in covering the break-in and apprehending those responsible.

In view of the nature of this information, copies of the attached are being made available only for the Director and Mr. Bishop's Office. All investigative divisions and Mr. Dalbey have been orally briefed relative to these plans.

1 ENCLOSURE

COPY MADE FOR MR. TOLSON

The following information was furnished by SAC Roy K. Moore in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania:

As of the morning of July 22, 1971, the plan for the break-in at the Federal Building in Camden, New Jersey, by the "Grady Action Group" called for the participation of 23 individuals utilizing ten cars, all under the leadership of John Peter Grady. Actual entry to the building will be made by six individuals. Grady will not enter the building, but he will man a command post on top of a nearby building and will be in radio communication with his units by use of walkie-talkies. Upon being advised by "out-riders" in automobiles that the streets adjacent to the Federal Building are clear, Grady will give the signal to begin the break-in.

The six individuals will have been previously stationed in a truck parked in the rear of the Federal Building. Upon the signal, utilizing ladders to gain access to a roof of a loading platform, they will make their way via a fire escape to the fifth floor where they will gain direct access to the Selective Service Board by breaking a window. They will then carry away as many Selective Service records as possible, scattering and mutilating those they cannot handle. They will make their escape via the truck after exiting by a side door.

During this period, out-riders, both stationary and mobile, will be operating in the vicinity of the Federal Building, alerting those inside by radio communication should any danger arise. Out-riders are positioned so that should the intruders be pursued, they will be able to block the streets, preventing apprehension.

FBI plans at this time call for the utilization of between 71 to 80 Agent personnel to effect the arrest of the individuals inside the building while in the act of stealing Selective Service records. Our people will be so positioned to enable the simultaneous apprehension of Grady in the command post as well as all out-riders. Likewise, a simultaneous search will be conducted of the house where plans, film, maps, etc., pertaining to the break-in are stored.

SACs Moore and Bachman (Newark) will be stationed in the Federal Building, which will serve as our raid command center. Four other Agents will assist there. Two other Agents will be stationed in a vacant room outside the interior entrance to the Selective Service Board where they will be in a position to observe the activities of those inside the Selective Service Board. Upon signal from Moore, those inside will be apprehended, their escape blocked by Agents on the fire escape outside, and Agents on the inside. Twenty-eight Agents, all previously concealed in a funeral home across the street from the Federal Building, after entry by the six will surround the building, providing a second line of defense against escape. They will apprehend any out-riders in vehicles or on foot in the vicinity.

Another team (six Agents), headed by SAC Jamieson (Philadelphia) will be secreted in a rented apartment adjacent to Grady's command post. They will apprehend Grady. An eight-man team, upon the execution of the search warrant, will immediately begin the search of the residence where plans and instrumentalities of the crime are concealed.

Fourteen teams of two Agents each will move in to apprehend those out-riders on the perimeter. Our forces will be in constant communication with each other, and we will be in a position to visually observe those who actually break in the building. We will, likewise, be in a position to monitor and, when necessary, jam the radio communications of the Action Group.

Twenty-five interview rooms have been designated in the Federal Building. Subjects will be assigned to each immediately after their arrest where they will be interviewed, if agreeable, fingerprinted, and photographed. They will be held in the Federal Building until their appearance before a United States Magistrate during the normal course of business later that morning.

The Bureau will be in constant communication with our forces at the scene through our field office at Philadelphia, ten minutes distant from Camden, and pertinent facts, as they are developed, will be brought to the attention of appropriate Bureau officials.

SUBJECT: BURGLARY OF FBI RESIDENT AGENCY

Reference is made to my memorandum to Mr. Tolson, 7/21/71, setting forth the results of the conference on that date.

I put an addendum on this memorandum, pointing out the extreme importance of the action which is to take place late Sunday night and early Monday morning, 7/25-26/71, which could lead to the arrest of 15 to 25 subjects in this case. Because of the importance to the Bureau and to this country, I concluded that no stone should be left unturned in order to make this operation successful. Therefore, I recommended that I go to Philadelphia on Sunday afternoon and carefully review all the plans made, discuss their implementation directly with those involved, and be on the spot to assist in carrying out this operation in the early hours of Monday, 7/26. However, this was turned down; therefore, I cannot go.

In view of this fact, I want to call to your attention the need for you and the men in your division to follow this case with extreme care and on an almost minute-to-minute basis when the action starts. I want you to be certain to be in regular contact with the Philadelphia Office and with those responsible for the operation, and be certain that the plans are sound in concept and properly executed.

Likewise, you are of course to keep me fully informed of all developments on a timely basis. Lastly, I think it is necessary for you to have prepared immediately an in-depth analysis of this case. This would include the current facts relating to the operation which is to take place early Monday morning, and all the factors therein which we should be cognizant of, as well as the details of the plan which is to be executed, leading to the arrest and identification of the subjects. If there is any question at all, please get in touch with me.

Attached is a proposed draft briefly setting forth the facts concerning the intended Camden action scheduled for July 26, 1971, and the apprehension of the individuals involved in the break-in of the Federal Building.

The attachment to this draft, which will be a more detailed summary of the events as they occur, will necessarily have to be prepared immediately subsequent to the apprehension of those involved in the break-in.

ACTION:

If the proposed draft is approved, it is recommended that it be sent under Monday's date, July 26, 1971, to the Attorney General, with copies to the Deputy Attorney General; Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division; and Assistant Attorney General, Internal Security Division; as well as to the Honorable H. R. Haldeman, Assistant to the President; and the Honorable Henry A. Kissinger, Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, The White House, in view of the stated connection with Philip Berrigan.

Other appropriate interested agencies will be subsequently advised.

Today, during the early morning hours, a group of individuals, under the leadership of one John Peter Grady, attempted to carry out a plan to break into the Federal Building at Camden, New Jersey, enter space occupied by the Draft Board, and carry off records pertaining to the operation of the Selective Service System. In a simultaneous operation, those inside the building, as well as numerous others engaged as look-outs, were taken into custody by the FBI.

John Peter Grady has been described by numerous sources as a close associate of Philip Berrigan and others affiliated with the East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives.

Attached for your information is a summary of events dealing with this incident.

The Attorney General (White House) has been advised by separate communication.

SUBJECT: BURGLARY OF FBI RESIDENT AGENCY, MEDIA, PENNSYLVANIA, MARCH 8, 1971

Attached is a brief summary of the salient facts available at this time relative to the proposed break-in of the Federal Building at Camden, New Jersey, which remains tentatively scheduled for the early morning hours of July 26, 1971.

This is being submitted for the Director's ready reference and outlines the intended plans of the "Grady Action Group" as well as the plans of Bureau personnel under the direction of SAC Roy K. Moore at the scene in coping with this situation. As of this time, Philadelphia reports 23 individuals under Grady's direction will participate in various phases of the break-in while 71 to 80 Agent personnel will be utilized in covering the break-in and apprehending those responsible.

In view of the nature of this information, copies of the attached are being made available only for the Director and Mr. Bishop's Office. All investigative divisions and Mr. Dalbey have been orally briefed relative to these plans.

ACTION: None. For information.

ENCLOSURE

The following information was furnished by SAC Roy K. Moore in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania:

As of the morning of July 22, 1971, the plan for the break-in at the Federal Building in Camden, New Jersey, by the "Grady Action Group" called for the participation of 23 individuals utilizing ten cars, all under the leadership of John Peter Grady. Actual entry to the building will be made by six individuals. Grady will not enter the building, but he will man a command post on top of a nearby building and will be in radio communication with his units by use of walkie-talkies. Upon being advised by "out-riders" in automobiles that the streets adjacent to the Federal Building are clear, Grady will give the signal to begin the break-in.

The six individuals will have been previously stationed in a truck parked in the rear of the Federal Building. Upon the signal, utilizing ladders to gain access to a roof of a loading platform, they will make their way via a fire escape to the fifth floor where they will gain direct access to the Selective Service Board by breaking a window. They will then carry away as many Selective Service records as possible, scattering and mutilating those they cannot handle. They will make their escape via the truck after exiting by a side door.

During this period, out-riders, both stationary and mobile, will be operating in the vicinity of the Federal Building, alerting those inside by radio communication should any danger arise. Out-riders are positioned so that should the intruders be pursued, they will be able to block the streets, preventing apprehension.

FBI plans at this time call for the utilization of between 71 to 80 Agent personnel to effect the arrest of the individuals inside the building while in the act of stealing Selective Service records. Our people will be so positioned to enable the simultaneous apprehension of Grady in the command post as well as all out-riders. Likewise, a simultaneous search will be conducted of the house where plans, film, maps, etc., pertaining to the break-in are stored.

SACs Moore and Bachman (Newark) will be stationed in the Federal Building, which will serve as our raid command center. Four other Agents will assist there. Two other Agents will be stationed in a vacant room outside the interior entrance to the Selective Service Board where they will be in a position to observe the activities of those inside the Selective Service Board. Upon signal from Moore, those inside will be apprehended, their escape blocked by Agents on the fire escape outside, and Agents on the inside. Twenty-eight Agents, all previously concealed in a funeral home across the street from the Federal Building, after entry by the six will surround the building, providing a second line of defense against escape. They will apprehend any out-riders in vehicles or on foot in the vicinity.

Another team (six Agents), headed by SAC Jamieson (Philadelphia) will be secreted in a rented apartment adjacent to Grady's command post. They will apprehend Grady. An eight-man team, upon the execution of the search warrant, will immediately begin the search of the residence where plans and instrumentalities of the crime are concealed.

Fourteen teams of two Agents each will move in to apprehend those out-riders on the perimeter. Our forces will be in constant communication with each other, and we will be in a position to visually observe those who actually break in the building. We will, likewise, be in a position to monitor and, when necessary, jam the radio communications of the Action Group.

Twenty-five interview rooms have been designated in the Federal Building. Subjects will be assigned to each immediately after their arrest where they will be interviewed, if agreeable, fingerprinted, and photographed. They will be held in the Federal Building until their appearance before a United States Magistrate during the normal course of business later that morning.

The Bureau will be in constant communication with our forces at the scene through our field office at Philadelphia, ten minutes distant from Camden, and pertinent facts, as they are developed, will be brought to the attention of appropriate Bureau officials.

Dear Hank:

Pursuant to your request, I'm enclosing four shots of the Town House and four shots of Rutgers Law School, taken by the Starlight Scope affixed to a Topcon Camera during the dark night of July 24-25, from a distance of two blocks.

Also enclosed is the code to which source has been made privy; however, certain of these items will change daily.

Additionally, we recorded all their walkie-talkie communications the last two nights. It is readable.

I thought, perhaps, you would be interested in letting Mr. "R" and Mr. "S" and anyone else who might be knowledgeable take a look at them.

SUBJECT: MEDBURG

This is to advise that at this time the subjects in this case plan to take action tomorrow night, Saturday, 8/14/71, which may result in their entering the Federal Building in Camden, New Jersey. Our Agents in Camden have instructions to wait until the subjects enter the building before apprehending them. However, if the subjects are at this location, and have the equipment necessary, and move up to the building with the obvious intention of entering, but for some reason decide not to, then the agents are being instructed to move in and make the arrests as a conspiracy case.

The Department has issued written instructions in this connection. It is not likely that any action will take place until sometime between 12 midnight on Saturday, 8/14, and 3 a.m., Sunday, 8/15/71. The Director will be promptly advised on Sunday morning, 8/15, as to what took place.

In attempting to determine who might have had access to copies of MEDBURG documents in the Conn. area, New Haven file review reflected the following: ql

Boston teletype to Director, dated 5/12/71, captioned MEDBURG, reflected that on 5/11/71, a Boston source furnished that office with "Second list of addresses taken from five additional 9" by 12" manila envelopes" collected from a mail box in Cambridge, Mass. Envelope bore return address of "RESIST, Room 4, 763 Mass. Ave., Cambridge, Mass..." and carrying 80¢ postage. Boston believed the envelope possibly contained packets of copies of documents "1-6 or portions thereof" of documents from MEDBURG. ql

One was addressed to [redacted] ACLU Police Spying Project, Yale University Law School, New Haven, Conn. ql

Upon receipt of Xerox copy of the envelope received by the Sacramento Office, U.S. Postal Service officials at New Haven were contacted as reflected in the enclosed FD 302's. The only pertinent information obtained was that the letter was mailed in New Haven and postmarked on 7/10/71.

To date, New Haven has had no indication that documents relating to MEDBURG were sent from the Conn. area. We were aware of the "packet" apparently sent to [redacted] by "RESIST" at Cambridge, Mass. But. New Haven has not received any information that [redacted] has further disseminated any of the material he received.

Boston is requested to advise if that have any information that would reflect what documents RESIST possessed and later sent out. Specifically, is or was RESIST in possession of the documents in question here. If so, this could possibly indicate whether [redacted] had such a copy in his possession.

New Haven will attempt to initiate an extremely discreet inquiry at [redacted] relative to [redacted] activities and the identities of his associates there. Due to the nature of [redacted] background, and position at [redacted] this inquiry will be most discreet to avoid embarrassment to the Bureau.

[redacted] Carrier Section, United States Postal Service, Main Post Office, Church Street, was shown a Xerox copy of an airmail envelope, 9½" by 4⅛" addressed to EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE OF THE RIGHTS OF MAN, 650 CAPITAL MALL SACRAMENTO, CA. 95814, with no return address. It had a New Haven postmark of July 22, 1971, 10 am, and a over cancellation of U.S. Postal Service, CA 956, 5 pm, July 23, 1971

[redacted] advised that there appeared to be a 11¢ airmail stamp affixed to the envelope.

Based on the New Haven cancellation die, the envelope was cancelled at the Brewery Street Terminal and Transportation Service Depot. This is due to the time of "10 am" appearing therein and that it is an airmail envelope. All airmail handled locally from New Haven and area towns is processed by the Brewery Street Terminal. Regular mail cancelled in the Main Post Office and the Brewery Street Terminal does not contain a hour designation but simply am. or pm.

The time designations utilized for am. are as follows:

between 12:01 am and 12 noon, 10 am;
12:01 noon and 4 pm, 2 pm;
4 pm to 7 pm, 7 pm;
after 7 pm to 12 pm, simply, pm.

The latter designation of pm. occurs as the Post Office guarantees any am. letter received up to 7 p.m. will be delivered the next day within a 600 mile radius.

There being no local box mail picked up after 7 p.m., nor mail deposited within the Main Post Office after 11 p.m., when the doors are locked. The post office doors are reopened at 5 a.m. The first pick-up of central New Haven mail boxes begins at 9 a.m. by truck. At 10:00 a.m., the box collections and the main Post Office airmail is transported to the Brewery Street Terminal for processing.

Further, at 10:30 a.m., airmail departs the Brewery Street Terminal for Tweed-New Haven Airport. It is flown via Pilgram Air Lines to John F. Kennedy Airport, New York. He believes this letter departed at that time because it had been over cancelled on July 23, 1971, at the U.S. Postal Services, CA 956, 5:00 p.m., July 23, 1971, which he assumes to be at Sacramento, California.

Honorable Henry A. Kissinger
Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Dr. Kissinger:

During the early morning hours of August 22, 1971, a group of individuals, under the leadership of one John Peter Grady, attempted to carry out a plan to break into the Federal Building at Camden, New Jersey, enter space occupied by the Draft Board, and carry off records pertaining to the operation of the Selective Service System. In a simultaneous operation, eight individuals inside the building, as well as twelve others engaged as lookouts, were taken into custody by the FBI.

John Peter Grady has been described by numerous sources as a close associate of Philip Berrigan and others affiliated with the East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives.

Several hours prior to the Camden, New Jersey, incident, FBI Agents discovered two individuals inside the Old Post Office Building in Buffalo, New York. FBI Agents, assisted by local authorities, arrested a total of five individuals apparently involved in an attempt to break into Selective Service Board and Military Intelligence space.

BURGLARY OF FEDERAL GOVERNMENT OFFICES
CAMDEN, NEW JERSEY, AND BUFFALO, NEW YORK

For several months John Peter Grady has, with the help of several accomplices, plotted to break into offices of the Selective Service System, Army Intelligence, and the FBI, located in the Post Office Building in Camden, New Jersey. It was their plan to destroy and carry off official Government records.

During the early morning hours of August 22, 1971, eight members of this group climbed a ladder to a first-floor roof of the Post Office Building and thereafter proceeded to the fifth floor via a fire escape, where they broke into space occupied by the Selective Service System. Others patrolled the nearby streets as lookouts. File cabinets were forced open and records mutilated and strewn about the room. Numerous mail sacks were filled with Selective Service records and lowered by rope to the first floor roof. Other records were thrown out the windows. No effort was made to enter Military Intelligence or FBI space.

Beginning at 4:30 a.m., FBI Agents surprised the eight in the Post Office Building, taking them into custody. Four others were arrested as they stood guard in an adjacent church yard and the remaining eight, including Grady, were arrested in a nearby residence. Upon execution of authorized search warrants, plans, maps and charts relating to the burglary were seized by FBI Agents.

All twenty were charged with Crime on Government Reservation - Breaking and Entering, Destruction and Theft of Government Property, Removal and Mutilation of Public Records, Unlawful Interference with the Military Selective Service Act of 1967, and Conspiracy to commit all of the above. Each was brought before the U. S. Magistrate, Camden, New Jersey, on August 22, 1971, and bond was set totaling $605,000. Individual bonds varied from $5,000 to $75,000, Grady being the exception with his bond set at $150,000. Nineteen were remanded to jail in lieu of bond and one, a minister, was released on $10,000 personal recognizance bond.

Several hours prior to this incident in Buffalo, New York, FBI Agents discovered two intruders in the Old Post Office Building. Both were apprehended after a chase. With the assistance of the Buffalo Police Department, three other individuals were located in the Selective Service Office on the second floor. All were in their stocking feet, wearing blue tee-shirts and shorts with the exposed portions of their bodies darkened.

In a further search of the premises, eight bags were located, three of which contained records of the 108th Military Intelligence Group, which had offices in the Old Post Office Building. The other bags contained clothing and personal property of the subjects, along with burglar tools, electric drills, pocket flashlights and related equipment.

An Assistant U. S. Attorney authorized prosecution of all five for Destruction and Theft of Government Property and Crime on a Government Reservation. All appeared before U. S. Magistrate Edwin Maxwell at 8:00 a.m. on August 22, 1971. Two who refused to furnish full identifying data were held on $35,000 bond and the remaining three were held on $15,000 bond. All were remanded to jail in lieu of bond and a preliminary hearing has been set for August 31, 1971.

The Attorney General

August 13, 1971

Director, FBI

BURGLARY OF THE FBI RESIDENT AGENCY, MEDIA, PENNSYLVANIA MARCH 8, 1971

Enclosed for your information is a Xerox copy of a spurious Bureau memorandum dated January 27, 1971, captioned "Racial Disorders and Law Enforcement," which was delivered to our Sacramento Office on July 23, 1971, after being returned to the Post Office as undeliverable mail. An examination of this memorandum indicates that it was possibly prepared from material taken in the burglary of our Media, Pennsylvania, Resident Agency.

The fraudulent document was contained in an envelope postmarked July 22, 1971, at New Haven, Connecticut, addressed to "Executive Director of International League of the Rights of Man, 650 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, CA 95814." This organization, described as an international federation concerned with political freedom, racial equality, and civil rights, is headquartered in New York City. No record of an address for the organization in Sacramento could be located. The address 650 Capitol Mall is that of the Federal Courthouse.

The forged document is supposedly on letterhead stationery used at Bureau headquarters and bears a field office block stamp of our Philadelphia Office dated January 29, 1971. The handwritten name and initials appearing on the document appear to have been possibly copied from documents taken in the Media burglary. The file number written on the document is fictitious.

Examination of the wording reveals that the first six paragraphs are practically verbatim with language used in a year-end press release dated January 6, 1971, beginning on page 12 prepared by this Bureau for release by you. A copy of the year-end press release is also enclosed. No separate document with such wording has ever been prepared by this Bureau.

The Attorney General

The last three paragraphs of the spurious document contain wording which did not originate with this Bureau and it apparently was written with a view to depicting the Bureau as engaging in racist activities and unrestrained investigative measures to curb dissent.

Investigation to identify the persons responsible for this counterfeit document is being coordinated with our investigation of the Media Resident Agency burglary.

NOTE TO SACS PHILADELPHIA, SACRAMENTO AND NEW HAVEN:

Copies of the above letter and copies of the fraudulent document are being furnished for your information and assistance in the investigation ordered in Butel captioned "MEDBURG," dated 8/11/71. Also enclosed for the Philadelphia Office is a copy of the above referred to year-end press release which was prepared on a letterhead memorandum similar to that appearing in the forged document. Five copies of this press release were furnished to the Philadelphia Office for information in January, 1971. You should determine if a copy of the year-end press release could have been one of the documents stolen in MEDBURG and possibly used in the preparation of the forged document.

The second letter, signed [redacted] with a return address of [redacted] New York, undoubtedly refers to [redacted] the subject of a pending security investigation by this office, and who resides at this address in [redacted]

[redacted] is [redacted] and close associate and supporter of [redacted] She is a white female, born [redacted] married to [redacted] and has a daughter, [redacted] who was born [redacted] Credit Bureau records reflect that [redacted] formerly resided at [redacted] New York. These records also reveal that [redacted] was arrested 6/20/69, at the Capitol Building in Washington, D. C., for reading the names of the war dead of Vietnam, which case of unlawful entry was later dismissed. In this regard, she was listed as a housewife and part of [redacted] at the Capitol.

In connection with the investigation of the MEDBURG and GARDBURG ATTEMPT cases, on 5/12/71, WFO was requested to locate the arrest record for [redacted] and to furnish photographs and descriptive data. By teletype, 5/14/71, to Bureau and other interested offices, WFO advised that records of the MPD reflect one [redacted] New York, was arrested in WDC, 6/18/69, at 2:57 PM. The original charge of "unlawful entry" was dismissed. This individual was described as a white female, born [redacted] Virginia, 53½" tall, 138 lbs., brown hair, green eyes, married.

It would appear that in spite of several variations, [redacted] is identical with [redacted]

In addition to the above, Bureau is referred to the glossary of names and abbreviations with Buffalo airtel to Bureau 4/16/71. Both [redacted] are mentioned therein. A copy of this glossary is enclosed for the assistance of the Pittsburgh Office in the event further correspondence in this regard is received.

Leads

This case is receiving immediate preferred attention. The Bureau will be advised telephonically of pertinent developments. Leads to other divisions are being set forth by teletype or telephone as dictated by the urgency of the matter involved.

Philadelphia will follow and report prosecutive action.

Administrative Data

For the information of all offices, information was developed during the course of the MEDBURG investigation that subject JOHN PETER GRADY and others were planning a draft board break-in in Camden, N.J. A separate sub section of the MEDBURG file was opened to further develop that information. All correspondence concerning the "CAMDEN ACTION" should be directed to PH file 52-7165-SUB S.

Arrest warrants were obtained 8/21/71. Fugitive Form Letters, FD-65, are not being submitted since all subjects were in custody prior to completion of forms. Philadelphia is claiming 21 fugitives.

Departmental Attorney [redacted] is in Philadelphia handling legal matters involved in instant arrest. Copy of instant report will be furnished to him personally by the Philadelphia Division.

Two copies of instant report are being furnished the Newark Division since prosecution lies in the District of New Jersey. In addition, [redacted] are subjects of separate investigations in that division.

One copy of instant report is being furnished to the Boston Division for information since [redacted] are subjects of separate investigations in that division.

One copy of instant report is being furnished to the New York Division for information inasmuch as [redacted] JOHN PETER GRADY, [redacted] are subjects of separate investigations in that division.

One copy of instant report is being furnished to WFO for information inasmuch as [redacted] is the subject of a separate investigation in that division.

This report has been prepared to set forth the identities of the subjects arrested, the charges and the hearing before the U.S. Magistrate. A report containing all pertinent FD-302's concerning each arrest and disposition thereof will be promptly submitted.

NOTE:

Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, memorandum to the Director dated August 23, 1971, indicated a grand jury investigation into the above-captioned burglaries will be commenced on August 25, 1971, in Camden, New Jersey. The Department is considering subpoenaing the following individuals to appear as witnesses before the grand jury and requested the Bureau to determine whether any conversation of these eight individuals or the premises in which any of them had proprietary interest were subjected to an electronic surveillance:

Inquiry of appropriate field offices and a review of Bureau electronic surveillance indices are negative.

As the Federal Grand Jury was scheduled to commence on August 25, 1971, the results of our search was telephonically furnished to Departmental Attorney [redacted] the morning of August 25, 1971 by SA [redacted]

The Director inquired as to why a Department Attorney and Assistant U. S. Attorney (AUSA) went along during a surveillance of John Peter Grady and associates while they participated in "dry run" exercises in the vicinity of the Federal Building, Camden, New Jersey, during the evening and early morning hours of 8/15-16/71, in preparation for a planned break in.

Neither Department Attorney [redacted] nor AUSA [redacted] were at the scene of the surveillance. Both remained in our Philadelphia Office during the course of this surveillance where they would be readily available to render an on-the-spot legal opinion should the occasion arise. Neither participated in any way in the direction of the surveillance nor the investigative aspects of this case.

SUBJECT: MEDBURG;
Forged FBI Document

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 6-13-96 BY SP5 RJS/lmw

Envelope containing Xerox copy of supposed Bureau memorandum dated 1/27/71 and "Washington Post" article dated 5/10/71, delivered to Sacramento Office 7/28/71, after being returned to Post Office as undeliverable mail. Examination of memorandum indicates that it is a forgery, possibly prepared from material taken in Media, Pennsylvania, Resident Agency burglary (MEDBURG).

Above-described envelope addressed to "Executive Director, International League of the Rights of Man, 650 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, California. Envelope postmarked 7/22/71 at New Haven, Connecticut. International League for the Rights of Man, headquartered in New York City, is an international federation concerned with political freedom, racial equality, and civil rights. Serves as a special consultation agency for United Nations.

650 Capitol Mall is the main Federal Courthouse in Sacramento and envelope was opened by unidentified persons at that address. The International League of the Rights of Man could not be identified by Sacramento Office, based on public records.

The supposed Bureau memorandum dated 1/27/71 (Xerox copy attached) is captioned "Racial Disorders and Law Enforcement." It is supposedly on letterhead stationery used at Seat of Government (SOG) and has a field office block stamp of Philadelphia Office dated 1/29/71. Names and initials might have been copied from documents taken in MEDBURG. File number shown on document is fictitious. Title is underlined, a common practice in field offices but not done at SOG. Examination of wording by Domestic Intelligence Division (DID) reveals that first six paragraphs are practically verbatim with language used in year end press release dated 1/6/71, beginning on page 12 (attached) prepared by Crime Records Division for release by the Attorney General.

Memorandum for Mr. Brennan
RE: MEDBURG

Essence of this wording was prepared by DID for inclusion by Crime Records in release, but no separate document with such wording has ever been prepared in letterhead memorandum form by DID.

Last three paragraphs contain wording which is not Bureau-originated and which apparently was written with a view to attempting to depict Bureau as engaging in racist activities and unrestrained investigative measures to curb dissent. At least one misspelling is noted in the last paragraph.

The Laboratory and Identification Divisions have been requested to conduct examinations in effort to identify origin of the spurious FBI document and to determine if duplicating machinery used in copying genuine FBI documents in MEDBURG may have been used to Xerox the forged one. Since document in question is obviously a forgery, no damage assessment is being prepared by DID.

ACTION:

That this matter be referred to General Investigative Division as a matter related to or growing out of the Media burglary. Upon completion of Laboratory examination, complete facts should be furnished to Department.

RACIAL DISORDERS AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

Racial disorder and violence in 1970 did not reach the magnitude of the riots experienced in the mid-1960's. But the number of incidents of racial disorder that did occur in our cities and in secondary schools, along with the many unwarranted attacks on police, strongly indicate that we are far from the realization of racial harmony. More than 140 racial disturbances in our cities were reported during the year, and over 160 incidents of disorder growing out of racial discord in the secondary schools of the country were reported in the first four months of the 1970-1971 school year.

The number of Black Panther Party (BPP) groups throughout the country increased considerably. Some of these new groups operate under the name of the National Committee to Combat Fascism, which is synonymous with the Black Panther Party.

Huey P. Newton, BPP Supreme Commander, is quoted in the November 28th, 1970, issue of the BPP weekly newspaper, "The Black Panther", as saying "...I would add that it must always be remembered, understood and realized that our goal is to crush American capitalism and American imperialism. Because without this, we can do nothing."

Using the slogan, "We have to draw pictures that will make people go out and kill pigs" (police), this newspaper also advertises a book on revolutionary art by Emory Douglas, BPP Minister of Culture.

In 1970, acts by persons who identified themselves as Panthers resulted in the death of six police officers and the wounding of 22 others. This is a marked increase over the previous two-year period when five were killed and 42 wounded by members of the BPP.

In this respect law enforcement agencies have considerable experience. For instance, successful actions against the BPP resulted both from the use of special forces and putting into practice the plan for arousing the citizenry against black extremists. These measures greatly assisted law enforcement officers, particularly the police. The Bureau will continue to use all the usual measures at its disposal to influence radical groups for its purposes. FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

FOR RELEASE
WEDNESDAY, P.M.
JANUARY 6, 1971

FBI accomplishments in 1970 reached new highs in nearly all areas, Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced today.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, in summing up the work of his agency for the year, stated that as long as crime continues to increase and dissident elements continue to strive violently to destroy our current way of life, law enforcement cannot afford to look back for long on past accomplishments, but must look ahead and seek new ways to meet old challenges. He cited as examples the success of the FBI National Crime Information Center (NCIC), progress in the computerization of fingerprint records, continued advances in FBI Laboratory procedures and scientific investigative techniques, and the computerized criminal history file which will be operated in conjunction with the NCIC this year.

ORGANIZED CRIME

Mr. Hoover announced that during the past year FBI investigations resulted in 468 convictions of persons involved in organized crime. At the same time, cases against more than 1,200 other hoodlums, gamblers, racketeers, and vice figures involved in organized crime are in various stages of prosecution. Top bosses of nine of the some two dozen criminal syndicates currently operating in the United States were included in these two groups.

Several of the largest raids in FBI history occurred during 1970. These include the execution of some 300 search warrants in connection with interstate gambling operations, the arrest of more than 370 persons based upon information obtained from court-approved electronic surveillance installations, and the first Federal raids on intrastate gambling operations under the new Organized Crime Control Act of 1970.

Pointing out that gambling is a primary source of revenue for organized crime, the FBI Director noted these accomplishments:

The arrests of more than 50 organized crime personnel in 70 raids in the Philadelphia area between June and September, 1970.

The disruption of a major casino operation in New York City which handled between $35,000 and $100,000 a night. Eighteen individuals were arrested and $34,000 in cash was seized.

The culmination of more than two years of intensive investigation on September 10, 1970, when some 20 persons were indicted for the operation of a multimillion-dollar policy racket between New York and New Jersey.

The service of some 50 search warrants in the areas of Youngstown, Ohio, and New Castle, Pennsylvania, on operators of a large-scale numbers ring. It is expected that approximately 30 individuals will be indicted as a result of these raids.

The conduct of the first raids under the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 on October 29, 1970, just two weeks after the Act became effective. In the Philadelphia area, three massive numbers banks were smashed and six ringleaders were arrested. In the Newark area, eight members of a large-scale bookmaking ring were arrested, including one alleged syndicate member. Other raids have since been made in other parts of the country.

The arrests of more than 50 members of a syndicate-controlled bookmaking ring alleged to have been handling over 35 million dollars in wagers annually in New Jersey, New York, and Connecticut.

The execution of search warrants on 24 gambling locations in the Pittsburgh area on November 20, 1970.

The seizure of more than $6,500,000 worth of pinball and slot machines during raids conducted in Louisiana and Mississippi by more than 200 Agents between November 24th and 30th. Some $150,000 in cash was seized during the raids.

The arrests of 29 individuals and the seizure of more than $2,000,000 in cash and property during nationwide gambling raids conducted by over 400 FBI Agents operating out of 14 field offices on December 12, 1970. Almost 150 search warrants were served in the raids which reached into the upper levels of organized crime throughout the United States.

The arrest on May 11 and 12 of some 66 persons in the Detroit area, including one syndicate member reported to be the largest numbers operator in the State of Michigan. Also seized were nearly 60 weapons, approximately $62,000 in cash and negotiables, and gambling records and equipment.

Mr. Hoover said that in addition to the crippling of these gambling operations, the FBI further disrupted organized crime by striking at its leadership. He cited the following examples of syndicate chieftains who were convicted or are awaiting trial:

Felix Alderisio of Chicago, sentenced to five years in a conspiracy to swindle $79,000 to $199,000 from an Illinois bank.

Angelo DeCarlo of New York, sentenced to 12 years in a loan-sharking operation.

Ilario Zannino, former acting head of a New England criminal organization, convicted of conspiracy to fence $165,000 worth of stolen jewelry.

Carlo Gambino, reportedly the top underworld figure in New York City, arrested on charges of conspiracy to commit a $6,000,000 armored-car robbery.

Frank Brancato, publicly identified as the third-ranking racketeer in the Cleveland area, arrested on charges of extortion.

John P. Cerone, former acting head of the Chicago organized crime syndicate, sentenced to five years in prison on interstate gambling charges.

Salvatore Manarite of New York City, sentenced to 15 years for threatening a loan-shark victim and his family and to an additional 18 months for violation of the Interstate Transportation of Obscene Matter statute.

Nicolo Licata of Los Angeles, indicted for criminal contempt following more than a year's incarceration on civil contempt charges for refusing to testify before a Federal Grand Jury probing organized crime in Southern California.

Salvatore Pieri of Buffalo, sentenced to five years for bribing and tampering with a juror during Pieri's earlier trial on Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property charges.

Nicholas Civella of Kansas City, arrested on interstate gambling charges.

Carmine Tramunti of New York City, arrested in connection with a stock-manipulation scheme in which a victim had been viciously beaten.

Mr. Hoover also announced that a tremendous amount of information concerning local crime was developed during the Bureau's other investigations. On the basis of information obtained by the FBI, other Federal, state and local agencies made more than 800 raids, arrested some 4,400 organized crime figures, and seized more than $1,000,000 worth of currency, contraband, and gambling paraphernalia.

GENERAL CRIME

Mr. Hoover noted that the FBI investigates violations of a wide variety of Federal criminal laws. He gave the following examples of some of these investigations:

Aircraft hijackings have been increasing since the beginning of calendar year 1968. Since that time, 85 American aircraft have been hijacked, with 62 diverted to Cuba. During 1970, there were 18 hijackings, 14 of which went to Cuba, one to Lebanon, one to Jordan, and two to Egypt. In addition, there have been eight attempted hijackings which failed. Nearly all these hijackers have been identified, and successful prosecutions have resulted in cases where the hijacker has returned to the United States.

In a Fraud Against the Government case involving contracts for more than 48 million dollars for the production of military armaments, an FBI investigation resulted in the indictment of a corporation and 12 individuals.

Interstate transportation of stolen motor vehicles continues to increase. More than 30,500 cars, worth a total of more than 52 million dollars, were recovered in cases investigated by the FBI. Over 100 major automobile theft rings were investigated. One case involved the theft of expensive late-model automobiles in New York City which were then sold to innocent purchasers in Florida. This operation ended on June 20 when the FBI made simultaneous arrests of 17 subjects.

In the field of civil rights investigations more than 5,000 cases were handled. In addition, 943 cases under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 dealing with discrimination in facilities and places of accommodation were investigated, as well as 358 cases involving discrimination in housing under the Civil Rights Act of 1968.

A widespread investigation involving review of voluminous union records enabled a Federal Grand Jury in Brooklyn, New York, to return a 17-count indictment against the president and seven officials of the Seafarers International Union for violation of Federal Election Laws.

It is a violation of Federal law to transport stolen goods valued at $5,000 or more in interstate commerce. In one case, paintings valued at approximately $500,000 were stolen from the home of a prominent rancher in an isolated area of Colorado. In less than a week FBI Agents arrested an individual in New York City and recovered intact all of the art which included works by Picasso and Toulouse-Lautrec.

Thefts of stocks and bonds continued an upward trend. Between July and October, 1969, more than 13 million dollars worth of U. S. Treasury bills were stolen from the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company in New York City. FBI investigation caused arrests in the United States, Mexico, Germany, Sweden, and Switzerland, with more than $9,600,000 of the bills recovered.

In Camden, New Jersey, two officials of the Bartenders' Union and a hoodlum associate were given substantial sentences on antiracketeering charges which resulted from their extortion of thousands of dollars from restaurant owners.

With the shift to air transport as a major method of transporting high-value-type cargo, the increase in air traffic has surged tremendously and has caused added attention to be focused on thefts at airports on local, state, and Federal levels. Typical of FBI accomplishments in such matters was the arrest of five individuals within days after the January 7, 1970, burglary of the value room of an airline at John F. Kennedy International Airport, New York. A power tool with a pipe extension was used to drill a hole large enough for humans to enter through a wall, and sixteen valuable shipments consisting of diamonds, pearls, semi-precious stones, watches, and coins valued at approximately $200,000 were removed. Through a painstaking check of retail outlets and distributors for such a power tool, suspects were identified as operating a "hot rod" garage in nearby Long Island. As a result of the strong case developed against these subjects, guilty pleas for violation of the Theft from Interstate Shipment Statute were entered and fines and sentences levied in U. S. District Court during May, 1970.

On October 14, 1970, eighteen individuals were arrested by New York FBI Agents in connection with a series of thefts at another facility at Kennedy Airport during 1968 - 1969 involving $115,000 worth of skins, wigs, and revolvers.

INTERNAL SECURITY OPERATIONS

Stepped-up activities of militants, New Left types, and revolutionaries caused a marked increase in FBI investigations in this field, according to Mr. Hoover.

New Left Terrorism

After proclaiming that the 1970's would "make the 1960's look like a Sunday school picnic," the violent and terroristic Weatherman group, a former faction of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), went underground. Evidence that this was no idle threat came on March 6, 1970, when a series of dynamite explosions completely destroyed a Greenwich Village town house, killing three Weathermen. In March, dynamite and other explosives were found in an apartment rented to a Weatherman in Chicago. Similar dynamite was found at two Detroit police installations in an unexploded condition. In May, a statement attributed to a Weatherman leader declared a state of war against the United States and threatened to attack an "institution of American injustice." On June 9th, a bomb exploded at New York City police headquarters. Shortly before the explosion, an anonymous caller, claiming to be a Weatherman, warned of the bomb. In a tape-recorded message, the Weatherman underground took credit for the bombing of a police statue in Chicago on October 5th. Other bombings directed at colleges, Government installations and business establishments have occurred throughout the United States, and the Weatherman group has claimed credit for several of these. A recent statement allegedly written by a Weatherman leader claims the Weatherman group may shift its tactics from clandestine violence to rejoining the new and open "revolutionary culture." 9L

On April 2, 1970, twelve Weatherman members were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in Chicago for violation of antiriot laws arising out of the violent "Days of Rage" demonstrations put on by the Weatherman group in Chicago in October, 1969. 9L

On July 23, 1970, a Federal Grand Jury in Detroit indicted thirteen leaders of the Weatherman group for conspiracy to violate Federal bombing and gun-control statutes. 9L

On December 14, 1970, at Tacoma, Washington, a mistrial was declared during the trial of seven individuals based on the conduct of the defendants in the courtroom in the presence of the jury. The defendants, most of whom were members of the Weatherman group, had almost daily interrupted the trial by disruptive tactics since it began on November 23rd.

They were being tried on charges of conspiracy, destruction of Government property, and violation of antiriot laws. All seven were sentenced for contempt of court.

Racial Disorders

While racial disorder and violence in 1970 did not reach the magnitude of the riots experienced in the mid-1960's, the number of incidents of racial disorder that did occur in our cities and in secondary schools, along with the many unwarranted attacks on police, strongly indicate that we are far from the realization of racial harmony in the Nation. More than 140 racial disturbances in our cities were reported during the year, and over 160 incidents of disorder growing out of racial discord in the secondary schools of the country were reported in the first four months of the 1970-1971 school year. Some encouragement may be taken from the fact that there was a decline in the number of school disorders when compared with the 299 school incidents reported in the same period during the 1969-1970 school year.

The Black Panther Party

Mr. Hoover said that the number of Black Panther Party (BPP) groups throughout the country increased during the year. Some of these new groups operate under the name of the National Committee to Combat Fascism, which is synonymous with the Black Panther Party.

Huey P. Newton, BPP Supreme Commander, is quoted in the November 28th issue of the BPP weekly newspaper, "The Black Panther," as saying "...I would add that it must always be remembered, understood and realized that our goal is to crush American capitalism and American imperialism. Because without this, we can do nothing."

Using the slogan, "We have to draw pictures that will make people go out and kill pigs" (police), this newspaper also advertises a book on revolutionary art by Emory Douglas, BPP Minister of Culture. Well over 100,000 copies of this paper are printed each week with a high of 183,000 copies printed for an issue in late October.

In 1970, acts by persons who identified themselves as Panthers resulted in the death of six police officers and the wounding of 22 others. This is a marked increase over the previous two-year period when five were killed and 42 wounded by members of the BPP

The BPP became more deeply rooted in Marxism-Leninism in 1970 and regularly supports China, Cuba, North Korea, and North Vietnam. Eldridge Cleaver, BPP Minister of Information and a fugitive from justice, resides in Algiers where he maintains close contact with communist nations and Arab guerrilla organizations. In the Fall of 1970, Cleaver made his second trip to North Korea and combined it with stops in Communist China and North Vietnam. In a radio broadcast from Hanoi, he urged black American servicemen to desert, commit sabotage, and "rip off" (kill) the United States Commander in South Vietnam.

White Extremist Groups

The FBI continued its investigation of a number of white extremist organizations within the country whose activities tend to incite the flames of racial unrest.

The largest and most prominent of these groups is the United Klans of America, Incorporated, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. This organization in November, 1970, held its Klonvokation in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, at which time Robert M. Shelton was again elected Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America. One of the main purposes of the Klonvokation was to instill new life in the waning membership of the organization.

Antiwar Activities

Following demonstrations in Washington, D. C., in May, 1970, the antiwar forces underwent a major change, the FBI Director reported. The Student Mobilization to End the War in Vietnam (SMC) decided that large, peaceful demonstrations centered on the single issue of ending the war are the best way to project its antiwar message. The SMC is under the control of the Trotskyist-oriented Young Socialist Alliance (YSA), the youth group of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP).

The New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC), which had previously espoused the single-issue principle, decided to expand its activities to include civil rights groups, welfare groups, women's groups, etc. The organization which evolved out of the meeting at which this decision was reached is known as the National Coalition Against War, Racism, and Repression (NCAWRR).

One of the leaders of NCAWRR is Rennie Davis, who was convicted in Chicago, Illinois, for violation of antiriot laws. Davis has been calling for long-range plans to close down Washington, D. C., in May, 1971. At Davis' urging and with the cooperation of the North Vietnamese, the National Student Association sent a delegation to negotiate a peace treaty with the North Vietnamese. It is planned that this treaty will be circulated throughout the United States for "ratification" by the people. An ultimatum will then be issued to the United States Government to totally withdraw from North Vietnam by May, 1971. If this is not done, the plans for closing down Washington will be put into motion by NCAWRR.

Student Unrest

Campus agitation has continued during the current school year. By December 11, 1970, there had been over 180 demonstrations on campuses. Of these, 25 had racial overtones. There were eleven sit-ins, twelve incidents of arson, nine bombings, twenty-three attacks on the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, and seven demonstrations against military recruiters. During these activities, seventeen demonstrators and nine policemen were injured and one death occurred. Over 180 arrests were made and damage to campus facilities exceeded $3,300,000.

The Communist Party

Gus Hall, General Secretary of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), has been the dominant figure of the American communist movement for the last eleven years. Hall has continuously managed to guide the Party in the direction dictated by his Soviet masters.

In February, 1970, the Party formed a new youth organization, The Young Workers Liberation League, which Hall hopes will bring young blood into the Party. A new front group known as the National Coordinating Committee for Trade Union Action and Democracy was formed to spread Party influence in the trade union movement.

After Top Ten fugitive Angela Davis was captured by FBI Agents, Gus Hall announced Party support for her, and Angela Davis Defense Committees have sprung up across the country. In the Davis case, the Party feels it has all the elements necessary for a cause celebre: a female, a member of a minority group, an intellectual who expresses political beliefs contrary to the existing order, and extended litigation.

The National Committee of the Communist Party announced a CPUSA recruiting drive which they hope will recruit approximately 1,300 members during the coming year.

Espionage

Espionage investigations conducted by the FBI resulted in the expulsion of two Soviet and two Cuban officials, the FBI Director reported.

Aleksandr Vasilyevich Tikhomirov, a Russian United Nations translator, was arrested in Seattle, Washington, as he attempted to obtain documents concerning our West Coast air defenses. Criminal charges against him were dismissed and he was expelled from the country.

Boris Mikhaylovich Orekhov, a newsman for the Soviet newspaper, "Pravda," was expelled by the Department of State because of activities uncovered by FBI investigation.

The FBI also discovered a plot by a Soviet-bloc country to harass and harm a national of that country who had been given political asylum in the United States. This enabled another United States agency to take steps to prevent the harassment.

Two top Cuban intelligence officers were also expelled on evidence obtained by the FBI. Acting under their cover as diplomats at the Cuban Mission to the United Nations, First Secretary Orlando Prendes Gutierrez and Counsellor Rogelio Rodriguez Lopez led a disciplined and regimented complement of intelligence officers. They were apparently stunned when it became obvious that their activities had been receiving constant scrutiny.

As of December 1, 1970, there were 908 Soviet officials in this country and 414 officials representing other Soviet-bloc countries. The FBI conducts extensive investigation to identify those communist officials who use their official status to engage in espionage activities and extensive additional investigation is undertaken to neutralize their activities.

FUGITIVES

An all-time high of more than 32,000 FBI fugitives was located, including approximately 2,700 individuals sought at the request of state and local authorities for fleeing across state lines in violation of the Fugitive Felon Act. The FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" program continued during 1970. The list was temporarily enlarged to include a number of individuals wanted for particularly heinous crimes. Four young men were sought for the bombing of a University of Wisconsin building which resulted in the death of a 33-year-old researcher and some $3,000,000 in property damage. Two young women were charged in the murder of a Boston police officer, theft of Government property, and two bank robberies.

One of the persons to fall from the list during 1970 was Angela Davis, a self-admitted Communist who was charged with kidnapping and murder in connection with a violent shoot-out at a California courthouse which resulted in the death of four individuals, including a California judge. Davis was apprehended by FBI Agents in New York City on October 13.

NATIONAL CRIME INFORMATION CENTER

The FBI's National Crime Information Center (NCIC), a computerized index of wanted criminals and stolen properties, including vehicles, guns, securities, and other identifiable articles, marked its fourth year of operation. Early in 1971, the State of Alaska is scheduled to begin operations on the system, which will then extend to every state as well as to the District of Columbia and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters in Ottawa, Canada. Participating agencies used the computer files maintained at FBI Headquarters in almost 20 million instances compared with 14 million in 1969. An inquiry on the system is searched through the more than 2.4 million records and a response made in consistently less than 10 seconds.

In December, 1970, the Attorney General authorized the FBI to begin the development with the states of an important new addition to the NCIC system, a computerized criminal history file. The need for rapidly available information concerning an offender's past contacts with police, courts, and corrections has been long recognized as one of the most essential elements in improving the administration of criminal justice. Mr. Hoover points out that many serious considerations are involved in developing such a national index, including security and confidentiality; the type of data to be contained in the individual records; who will be authorized to receive such data; and procedures governing dissemination. Discussions concerning these matters with the states will begin early this month looking toward an early implementation date.

COOPERATIVE SERVICES

Police Training

The FBI's program of extending training assistance to local police agencies when requested reached an all-time high during the past year, according to Mr. Hoover. FBI personnel afforded assistance in over 9,300 training schools, attended by over 299,000 officers. This assistance included curricula planning, classroom instruction, and the providing of audio-visual aids and lesson materials in recruit schools and in classes for experienced officers in such specialized areas as organized crime, police-community relations, mob and riot control, bombings and bomb threats, and investigative techniques. Instructor teams from the FBI's Training Division in Washington, D. C., conducted numerous one-week schools in police management and administration on a field level for local law enforcement administrators and command personnel.

During the Fall of 1970, the FBI organized and conducted specialized law enforcement conferences on a nation-wide basis regarding bombings and handling of bomb threats. The conferences were designed to afford police executives, prosecutors, and members of the judiciary the opportunity to discuss current problems arising from bomb threats or the use of explosives and incendiary devices by extremists. A total of 277 conferences attended by 33,730 people and representing 8,305 agencies were held. This subject matter also is being presented in hundreds of police training schools for rank-and-file police personnel.

The FBI National Academy, an intensive and advanced twelve-week course for police executives and training personnel, graduated 199 officers during the past year. With the graduation of the 86th Session on October 28, 1970, a total of 5,834 officers, including 193 from 42 foreign countries, have received this training since the Academy was founded in 1935. Of the graduates still active in law enforcement, some 28 percent are the heads of their respective agencies.

Identification Division

During the year the FBI Identification Division received more than 6 1/2 million fingerprint cards and processed an average of about 26,000 fingerprint cards each day. Working in cooperation with law enforcement agencies all over the country, the Division conducted fingerprint searches resulting in the identification of nearly 40,000 fugitives, and as the year came to a close the files of the Identification Division contained some 199,000,000 sets of fingerprints.

During the year the Identification Division received more than 31,000 latent fingerprint cases, and examination in these cases necessitated more than 1,200,000 fingerprint comparisons. In excess of 4,700 suspects or subjects were identified through these examinations. Fifty-one advanced latent fingerprint schools for law enforcement agencies were conducted during the year and, in addition, two advanced administrative latent fingerprint schools were also conducted at FBI Headquarters for law enforcement officers. The Disaster Squad assisted in identification of victims in three air crashes which occurred in New Mexico, Colorado, and West Virginia.

During 1970 significant progress was made in the FBI research program looking toward the development of automatic fingerprint-reading scanner equipment. Through the use of experimental equipment, improved techniques were developed for detecting and recording fingerprint characteristics found on inked fingerprint cards. Based on this success, the FBI on September 1, 1970, contracted for the construction of the first integral unit of a prototype fingerprint-reading scanner system. It is anticipated that the prototype fingerprint-reading system will be completed and ready for evaluation and testing experiments by the end of this year. Eventual success in this project will constitute a major breakthrough for law enforcement. U

FBI Laboratory

The FBI Laboratory, which conducts examinations for law enforcement agencies throughout the country on a cost-free basis, received over 268,100 specimens on which approximately 430,100 examinations were conducted during the past year. These figures represent an 8% increase in specimens received and an 11% increase in examinations conducted over those for the prior calendar year. U

MISCELLANEOUS

The FBI Director reported that fines, savings, and recoveries in FBI investigations during the period reached the record figure of over $422,000,000, a return of $1.60 for every dollar appropriated for FBI operations. During the 12-month period, there were over 13,600 convictions in FBI cases resulting in actual, suspended, and probationary sentences totaling over 48,000 years.

Based upon information furnished to the FBI by criminal informants, over 12,500 arrests were made by the FBI and other law enforcement agencies. It is estimated that more than $39,000,000 in contraband and stolen merchandise was recovered based on this information.

TENTATIVE RELEASE

FBI Agents early today arrested 18 individuals in Camden, New Jersey, in connection with the burglary of the Federal Office Building at Camden, according to Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, advised 6 persons were apprehended inside the Camden Selective Service Office space in the act of removing Selective Service records from office files shortly after one a.m. this morning. Twelve additional persons were arrested by Agents in the area adjacent to the Federal Building and also charged with participation in the burglary.

John Peter Grady of Bronx, New York, was apprehended on the roof of the Town House Apartments, Second and Cooper Streets, Camden, which overlooks the Federal Building. Grady allegedly was directing the burglary operation and had an FM radio transmitter in his possession.

According to the FBI Director, each of the 18 individuals is charged specifically with Crime on a Government Reservation--Breaking and Entering. The penalty under this charge is covered by New Jersey State law which provides a maximum of up to 15 years confinement if convicted.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE.
SUNDAY, AUGUST 22, 1971

FBI Agents early today arrested 20 individuals in Camden, New Jersey, in connection with the burglary of the Post Office Building at Camden, according to Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, advised 8 persons were apprehended inside the Camden Selective Service Office space in the act of removing and destroying Selective Service records from office files shortly after 4:00 a.m. this morning. Four individuals were arrested in a churchyard near the Post Office Building and 8 additional persons were arrested at 21 North 4th Street in Camden.

Members of the group arrested by FBI Agents carried binoculars, radio transceivers, pry bars, and flashlights with the lenses taped to emit a thin beam of light. Arresting Agents located mail bags of records which had been lowered from the 5th floor Selective Service office to a 1st floor roof of the building.

Mr. Hoover said that those arrested inside the Post Office Building entered by using a fire escape at the rear of the building. To avoid triggering an alarm located at the bottom of the

FBI Reports It Is Using About 50 Taps and Bugs

By Ken W. Clawson
Washington Post Staff Writer

FBI surveillance on subversion and organized crime has remained stable since last March when FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported that a total of 47 telephone taps and six hidden microphones were in use, the Justice Department said last night.

Hoover said then—according to testimony released yesterday—that as of March 1, Attorney General John N. Mitchell had authorized and the FBI had installed 33 telephone taps and four bugging devices in national security cases.

He added that the FBI was operating 14 telephone taps and two microphone devices against organized crime. These surveillances were approved by the courts, he said, which had also authorized another 12 telephone taps against crime syndicate figures.

Hoover disclosed the wiretap and bugging figures in testimony March 17 before a House Appropriations subcommittee considering the FBI's fiscal 1972 budget request of $318.6 million.

Last night, Justice Department officials said the FBI is presently operating "less than 50" telephone taps and bugging devices in the national security field, all authorized by Attorney General Mitchell. The officials said the FBI has 16 telephone taps but no hidden microphones currently operating under court approval against organized crime.

In his testimony, Hoover did not distinguish between alleged domestic and foreign subversion. Mitchell contends that his approval alone is required for eavesdropping on all subversion. Others have challenged his right to wiretap alleged domestic subversives, and the Supreme Court now has the question under review.

Hoover told the subcommittee FBI wiretapping and bugging activities are "limited and stringently controlled."

Hoover said that published reports, which he characterized as "highly slanted and distorted," created the false impression that the FBI has an extensive network of "hundreds of electronic surveillances."

Responding to articles published Feb. 7 and 8 in The Washington Post, Hoover gave the subcommittee a memo he had written Attorney General Mitchell Feb. 9 in which he said the stories of FBI wiretapping were "replete with distortions, inaccuracies and outright falsehoods."

The articles quoted former Attorney General Ramsey Clark as saying the number of FBI wiretaps were at least double the number Hoover reported to Congress. The articles also quoted "one well-informed source," and Clark implied, that the number of FBI wiretaps was reduced just before Hoover testified before a congressional committee and then resumed shortly afterwards.

The articles quoted other sources as raising the suspicion that the FBI bugged the office of Sen. Birch Bayh (D-Ind.) during the controversial nomination of Judge Clement Haynsworth Jr. for the Supreme Court and that the FBI tapped telephones of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Hoover pronounced all the allegations untrue.

The FBI director and subcommittee chairman John J. Rooney (D-N.Y.) together accused former Attorney General Clark of talking out of both sides of his mouth. Hoover explained why he called Clark a "jellyfish" in a Washington Post interview that followed publication of Clark's book critical of the 76-year-old director.

Hoover said he was reminded by his former assistant, Cartha DeLoach, that Clark had made a flattering speech about Hoover in 1967, prompting the director to listen to a replay of the record in which Clark "praised the bureau to the skies and then said the bureau is merely a reflection of the image of its director."

"When I listened to the recording of that speech and read what Clark had said in his book I was so outraged it caused me to make the statement that he is a 'jellyfish,'" Hoover said.

Rooney responded that Clark "did the same thing to me." He said that Clark so praised him at a dinner in New York that ". . . it was to me a little sickening, he was laying it on so heavy." Then a year later, Rooney said, Clark endorsed his opponent in a primary election.

"He was too sirupy," Hoover agreed.

The director's aide and longtime associate, Clyde Tolson, told the subcommittee that the reason Hoover has four armored cars at his disposal is for his security in the face of continuing death threats.

Tolson said that during the first three months of this year, Hoover received 16 death threats. During 1970, he said, there were 26 threats against Hoover's life.

The cost of the 1970 vehicle was $27,665, Hoover said, pointing out that the subcommittee has authorized the purchases over the years. He said two of the vehicles are stationed in Washington, one in New York and one in Los Angeles. Prior to his testimony, it was reported that one of the cars was stationed in Miami, where Hoover occasionally sojourns for the horse races.

Hoover said that he and Mitchell have used the armored Cadillacs in New York and Los Angeles. He also said the vehicles are available as "the needs arise for investigative purposes," but he did not specifiy how or when.

In asking for a budget increase of $44.2 million over the current year, Hoover made it clear the FBI is stepping up its activities against New Left and black extremists, who he said have increased their "violent and terrorist tactics."

This was made clearer in FBI documents stolen March 8 from the FBI's Media, Pa., office. The documents indicated these groups should be kept under greater surveillance.

Although the Media thefts occurred nine days before Hoover testified, he did not mention them in the on-the-record portion of his testimony.

He charged that the financial underpinning of the Black Panther Party, which he described as the most active and potentially dangerous black extremist group, came from many prominent personalities. Hoover said actress Jane Fonda was a chief fund-raiser who reportedly solicited a $6,000 donation from British actor Richard Burton.

Anna Louise Strong, who died in China in 1970, left the Panthers a legacy of $17,000, he added.

— Never was any such car in Miami. It travels to race track in that area for over 20 yrs.
